About Council of Architecture Training and Research Centre (COA TRC), Bhopal

The Government of India had initiated two major campaigns, namely the Startup India initiative, and the National Mission for Skill Development. Whereas the Startup India initiative aims to boost the entrepreneurship environment in the country and to encourage startups with jobs creation, the National Mission for Skill Development has been developed to create convergence across sectors and State in terms of skill training activities. Keeping in view these recent initiatives by the Government of India, the Council of Architecture has now decided to open up its academic and research wing through the establishment of Council of Architecture Training and Research Centres (COA-TRC) at five zones in India, with Bhopal as one of its Centre. The purpose of this COA-TRC is to nurture a culture of entrepreneurship in the creative minds of young Architects and designers, so that their ideas metamorphose into newer the niftier products or services capable of being utilized commercially.

About Institute of Town Planner, India (ITPI)

The Institute of Town Planners, India, owes its origin to a small group of Town Planners of Delhi, who in 1947 decided to set up a professional Town Planning Institute on the lines similar to the Royal Town Planning Institute, London. The number of planners, which then did not exceed six, was too small for a registered society to be set up and therefore, the small group formed itself into an Indian Board of Town Planners and started working towards establishing a professional Institute.

After three years of continuous work, the members of the Indian Board of Town Planners, who then numbered about fifteen, evaluated the possibility of forming the Institute of Town Planners, India and later on finalized the Memorandum, Articles of Association and Bye-laws of the Institute.

About Conference

By 2030, two thirds of the world population (5 billion people) is expected to live in cities. Rapid urbanization has brought enormous challenges, including growing numbers of slum dwellers, increased air pollution, inadequate basic services and infrastructure, and unplanned urban sprawl, which also make cities more vulnerable to disasters. Making cities safe and sustainable means ensuring access to safe and affordable housing, investment in public transport, creating green public spaces, and improving urban planning and management in a participatory and inclusive manner.

This conference is a continuation of the previous conference (URBAN TRANSITION & GOVERNANCE in collaboration with HCM RIPA) in the series which aims to create resilient, inclusive and sustainable human settlement by the innovative ideas of Architects, Urban Planners and research scholars in the form of research papers.

THEMES OF THE CONFERENCE

The conference will cover the following topics:

- Track 1 Resilient and Inclusive City Planning: Urbanization and Development
- Track 2 Sustainable Urban Governance, Infrastructure and Services
- Track 3 Past and Future: City's Image and Preservation
- Track 4 Evolving Architecture and Rethinking Cities
- Track 5 Design, Art and Architecture
