"Inclusive Architecture" encompasses aspects such as integrated approaches to designing various environments for all users, emphasizing inclusivity and accessibility architectures in global systems .It also includes architectural design for long-term care living environments for older adults , inclusive mobility smart solutions for people with reduced mobility, underprivileged etc. Sustainable architectural solutions are necessary to accomplish the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in architectural education. The Inclusive Studio framework, should emphasize on diversity, inclusivity and the creation of environments that support learning, wellbeing, and community sustainable development.

The program intends to sensitize teachers to incorporate gender views, universal design principles, and inclusive design criteria into architectural education and apply inclusive design principles to enhance sustainable community well-being through architectural interventions.
