PREAMBLE

Habit of reading books is found diminishing in the field of Architectural academia with the influence of easy access to ideas through e- sources, ready reference materials, lack of awareness and misconception that books contribute very less in learning process in Architectural education. Our libraries have turned out to be archives of books which are not accessed often by the students. In contrary, concepts and theories of Architecture are expressed and criticized through literary works. Better understanding of these works would enhance the knowledge base of the students and also contributes to have a strong conceptual background for the design interventions.

The intention of this programme would be to look at how books would provide positive stimuli in generating sensible design ideas. The programme would explore the possibilities of connecting the process of extracting thoughts from books related to architecture to process of Architectural design. This would also create a platform to discuss on methods of exploring various texts related to architecture and imbibe them in the design process so that the students are triggered to develop the habit of reading. The five day programme would encompass the design processes starting from Basic design, Architectural design in first year to Architectural Thesis in the final year.
