PREAMBLE

Cities are homes to the future. With most of the population living in cities, the focus is on how to make them more sustainable in terms of consumption, living conditions, well being and socio-environmental footprint. There is a need to understand on the relationship between various aspects on climate change, Disaster Risk reduction, Environmental and Human Development. Efforts are needed to engage the students in education since it includes social competence, a sense of agency and responsibility for the future. There is also a need for prominent role of place characteristics for policy makers, urban planners and urban designers to make urban areas more resilient places for epidemic and pandemic which influence the citizen's lifestyle dramatically.
